Collateral Damage Evaluation and Documentation

Our project managers are experts in forensic damage analysis and claims documentation. Upon initial inspection of your roof, your project manager will evaluate the claim as if he/she is your insurance company. We will make note of all damaged items around the house including: siding, gutters, exterior paint, window screens, and damage to A/C units. All collateral evidence of hail will help our case for full replacement cost benefits. Next, we will evaluate a 10'x10' test square on all elevations of the roof looking for clearly identifiable hail bruises. A hail bruise is defined as a hail impact that has knocked granule off of your shingle and has punctured or "bruised" the fiberglass mat of your composition shingle. The insurance company's standard for full replacement cost benefits is between 5 and 15 bruises per 100 sq. ft. Each insurance company's standards for full replacement cost benefits are different. Our job is to document the damage you have sustained correctly on the first inspection so we can "Prove Your Loss" when your insurance company comes to inspect your roof.

Satellite View Technology Roof Measurement

K&K utilizes software to measure your roof online. We get the square footage area of your roof and generate a diagram of your roof structure. Our job is to make life easy for your insurance adjuster by being prepared with a detailed diagram and roof measurements. Many times, insurance adjusters are not able to access roofs due to dangerous pitch and height. K&K Roofing and Construction roof diagrams allow the insurance company's adjuster to get all dimensions and roof square footage without risking limb and life.

Proof of Loss Packet

A detailed line item estimate will be created based on the Pictometry measurement and collateral damage evaluation. Photographic evidence of hail & wind damage sustained to the property, along with a written description of the damage will accompany the line item estimate. This will serve as your Proof of Loss Document and should be presented to your insurance adjuster when he/she first comes to inspect your property for damage. If your loss is not documented correctly, the chances of your insurance company denying your claim are going to be higher. Our day in court, per say, is the day when your insurance adjuster comes to inspect your roof. Your project manager will be responsible for showing the insurance adjuster the hail damage that we have found. Ultimately our purpose during the adjuster appointment is to hold the insurance company accountable for the loss you have sustained.

Complete Repairs According to Final Estimate Provided by Insurance Company

Contingent upon approval of your claim, K&K Roofing and Construction will complete the work as identified in the insurance company's final scope of loss (or estimate). Most re-roofing projects are completed within two days and the efficiency and workmanship of our installation crews will certainly impress. We cut no corners in our installation process. K&K Roofing and Construction is a one stop shop. We specialize in re-roofing projects, gutters, and window screens, as a licensed contractor and can complete all necessary hail damage repairs.
